Maybe Dill made this observation from the glances cast in his direction!!

Did you ever hear of the guy who wanted to be a hen? No? Nor am I—either a hen or a ham!

Nevertheless Junior Funderbunk's greatest ambition in life is to hatch an egg. No, not lay one, merely hatch it!

Junior, it seems, decided to fasten an egg under his arm, using adhesive tape—or some other suitable method. He figured that after all his body heat was as good as that of a hen—didn't his girl tell him he was a hot number?

For your convenience, Junior, consult the Biology Department. Dill is of the opinion that in as much as the body heat of the hen is several degrees higher than that of your body, that your case is hopeless.

You might have fever for a—aw, go lay an egg!!

The tale of Peter (not Rabbit) Stevens, according to reliable reports from stooge Z-6%, is once more rushing Mildred Emmick.

Mildred went to Beaver Dam with him last week-end and Pete took her on to Madisonville later.

This time last year Pete's competition with the same lass was Al Goodman and this year is that bashful barefoot boy "Tuddy" Gardiner. . . . Better we should leave the triangle as is!

One day last week Louise Barton joined the "Judas" Club. Seems that an eminent instructor asked all students having taught in a rural school to hold up their hands. Louise didn't and made the remark that she "would not teach if she couldn't rate a high school."

Tut, Tut, Louise!—And why didn't you send your kid sister to the show, so she could win that dough?

Mouse Play: "J. V. (or B.)" Roberts goes to date with the principal of the Glasgow Graded School—slick work, eh, what?

Cap "Otto" Martin got a box of cigars as a present last week. The "Rock-house" boys helped him put forth a smoke screen—and now they are looking forward to the box of candy promised to Ernie Goodin—"sweets to the sweet," you know.

We wonder what Vivian Madison knows about "P. M."—And she won't talk!

The season of warm weather is here again. And with it comes a

LOCAL STONE WILL BE USED IN BLDG.

New Regents Given Oath At Meet Saturday.

The new recitation building at Western Teachers College will be constructed of Bowling Green limestone it was decided Saturday afternoon at a meeting of the Board of Regents of the college at which bids on the $561,000 building project were received.

A resolution concerning the type of stone to be used was adopted by the regents for three reasons: 1—The desire to maintain uniformity in the stone in buildings on the campus; 2—Recognition of whitening qualities of Bowling Green stone; 3—The desire to provide as much local work as possible in connection with the erection of the structure. It had been proposed to use Bedford, Ind., stone in the construction.

The regents received six general bids and three sub-contract bids, but did not pass on the proposals. The project is being constructed under a Public Works Administration allotment, and, in complying with regulations of the federal organization, the regents instructed Architect Brinton B. Davis of Louisville to go over all bids and make a detailed report concerning the lowest and best bidder. It was stated this work will require about ten days and that another meeting of the board will then be called for final approval of the contract.

The members of the new Board of Regents of the college were given the oath of office at the opening of the business session. The members of the new board are Judge Huston, Quin of Louisville, Fielding J. Pentecost of Henderson, and B. J. Borron and Mrs. W. P. Drake of Bowling Green, Superintendent of Public Instruction Harry W. Peters is an ex-officio member of the board.

Following the meeting of the regents, Dr. and Mrs. H. H. Cherry entertained the regents and a number of visitors at dinner at their home on the college campus.

GIRL PLANS TO BE A DOCTOR AND ENGINEER

"I want to carry the practical training of engineering into medicine," Miss Joyce says. She feels that because doctors of today use many kinds of electrical apparatus, knowledge of electrical engineering will be useful.

—for Digestion's sake—smoke Camels

MENTAL STRAIN induces nervous tension—slows down the digestive functions. Smoking Camels increases digestive activity—gives you a "lift." Smoke Camels for digestion's sake. Camels set you right!

Camel's aid to digestion confirmed by Science

Many phases of modern life—the hurry, worry, and mental effort—tend to slow down the flow of the digestive fluids. Smoking Camels helps release you from this strain on digestion. Renews and increases the natural and necessary flow of the digestive fluids.

Enjoy Camels steadily! They encourage that delightful sense of comfort and well-being that good digestion brings in its wake. Smoke Camels with meals, after, as often as you like—for the pleasure of their matchless flavor...for digestion's sake...for their cheery "lift." Camels set you right! You can smoke as many as you please. Camels never get on your nerves or tire your taste. Turn to Camel's costlier tobaccos today.

Dining de Luxe at Pierre's, New York

What will you have? It's pleasant to imagine. Perhaps Borsch Polonaise to start. Then Suprême of Halibut à la Russe, Braised Lettuce, and String Beans au Gratin. Then...a Camel...a crisp salad...a Camel again...and an ice with demi-tasse and...Camels! Camels are part of the art of dining today. They stimulate digestion—add to the sense of well-being every one should have after dining. M. Bonaudi (above), the banquet manager of Pierre's, who handles many of New York's smart "deb" parties and other exclusive society functions, says: "Camels are by far the most popular cigarette here."

METHOD USED.

Credit for paving the way for the discovery that Camels promote digestion goes to Pavlov, the great physiologist. Recent investigation confirms Camel's beneficial effect.

WHIRLED THROUGH SPACE upside down.

Attractive Vera Kimris, featured artiste in the New York hit, "Jumbo," says: "Thanks to Camel's aid to digestion, I can always be sure of enjoying my food."

NEW MURRAY BLDG. WILL BE COMPLETED BY JAN.

A. E. Bruner engineer and inspector for the Public Works Administration, who is overseeing the work on the new health building being constructed at Murray State College, stated that the building will be completed in all likelihood by the first of the year.

Although weather conditions have hindered rapid work on the two new buildings, they are at least 10 days ahead of schedule, according to Bruner. The concrete foundation for the health building has been completed, and work on the new swimming pool has been started. The excavation work has been completed on the home management building, and the forms are ready to be poured.

The new building, Bruner said, will be completely modernistic in design. The swimming pool and the women's gymnasium will be located on the ground floor. On the second floor will be the men's gym, while rooms for boxing, wrestling, and handball will be found on the third floor. Also in the building will be offices and classrooms for all health, hygiene, and physical education classes.

MISS HELM IS NAMED ON HOSPITALITY BODY

Miss Margie Helm, librarian at Western Teachers College, has been appointed by the Kentucky Library Association as one of the members of Kentucky's Hospitality Committee which will serve during the Fifty-eighth Annual Conference of the American Library Association at Richmond, Va., May 11-18.

STUDENTS TAUGHT TO LIVE WITHIN INCOMES

The art of living on less than their income is being taught to students of the home economics department of the University of Kentucky.

Budget keeping is one of the main studies of the economics department students. Budgets and the results achieved through them are checked every six months to determine where changes would be advantageous.

In spite of all the kicking we do about Kentucky weather, it is pretty near the optimum for both man and beast.

Renaissance in the field of Education. Even "night school" is in session—at least lovers seem to think so, as judged by their actions.

B. G. H. S. Campus and Western's rural school seem to be favorite spots for Western's and B. U.'s favorite sons and daughters.

And the neighbors complain about Max Reed! Seems that they object to his wooing as their children look on and in this way have their character weakened—What, no privacy, Truck?

Johnnie Lovett and Katie Hughes seem to have come to an agreement to become interested in each other, at least they are frequently seen together these days—guess it's spring.

Looked as tho Butler County beat Vandy. West pitched, Reed scored the first two runs. Moore had a perfect day at bat. Mutchler and "Father-Time" also were potent with the willow.

Tiz a pity that more students don't turn out to see Western's ball club—yeah, they play Cumberland

"GUESS AGAIN" HAS ALL INGREDIENTS OF ENTERTAINING PLAY

By VIRGINIA STEEN

Romance, farce, comedy, suspense, and drama are only a few of the emotional tendencies in the annual High School play, appropriately named "Guess Again."

The action of the play takes place at the Edgewater Inn, a summer resort in southern California. The business at this Inn is practically non-existent but the action—well the High School seniors invite you to prepare for the evening of May 1, at which time the play is to be given in the High School auditorium.

It has long been a custom at the local institution for each class of seniors to present a play. The proceeds of this annual spring production will go into the general library fund, which is set aside for the purchase of books and magazines.

The seniors request your interest and attendance.

DATE AND MARRY BUREAU IS BEGUN

Indiana Students Form Novel Corporation

Students of Indiana University recently announced the grand opening of the ABC Enterprises Corporation on the campus of Indiana State Teachers' College. Jack King, in the capacity of chief executive, and his assistants, Dick Bash, vice-president, and Dick Tuttle, secretary-treasurer, solicits trade and state that they guarantee all transactions or money refunded. The corporation is divided into several bureaus, the first, and perhaps the most important, being the Date Bureau. This bureau was established in order to enable love-lorn and unrequited swains and swainesses of the campus to rate an introduction to the secret apple of their eyes for whom they have long pined in lonely and dejected sorrow. Dates are rated A, B and C stock by the members of the corporation and the fee for services will be set according to this rating. The Worry Bureau, the second division of this great corporation, is a superb undertaking and will probably do more for the welfare of humanity, at least the humanity of this campus, than any organization heretofore established, according to heads. If a problem, however serious, which is a source of worry and irritation and prevents one from properly enjoying the social whirl, just come and let this group worry their best for a nominal fee per half hour.

HERE 'N THERE

By the Prowler

Congratulations, Alpha Sigma, for the splendid dance you gave Friday night. . . . It was one of the best of the year, in this Prowler's opinion. . . . The chief trouble being that no good dirt stories originated there. . . . Did you notice the "board in the back" effect with which some of the B. U. and B. U. hangout crowd was walking the earlier part of the week?—It all comes in a day's softball practice—You should have seen some of the acts that John Parker, Haro Durham, Casey Jones, Bill Martin and others put on—They were good. . . . Let's see, what do we have coming up for this week-end—Oh, yes, there's the Kentucky Derby, which always concerns lots of students, especially those from other states—Remember the horse I picked about a month ago? Well, he won his race Saturday, with what a Louisville sports writer termed "ridiculous ease". . . . Lois Almon displays the very good quality of an extraordinarily high temper when her roommate by chance misplaced a letter from Wayne Jones—Lois had to wait a whole fifteen minutes before she could read what her Wayne had to say. . . . Amy Curtis and Margaret Tichenor go home for the week-end, and Amy comes back with a throat ailment, while Margaret goes around telling the world that she had a great big time—but then don't we all? . . . These boys that leave just can't stay away—First Billie Hambaugh comes back to school, and now Charlie Wallace is ready to start back all over again—Here's hoping that you like the institution as well as you did before Crosby left the place, Charlie. . . . And the whole town is glad to see Red Hanley back with us after a short leave. . . . By the way, I have late-dated several times this last week—How'm I doin'? I want a date with Ruth Shaw, Lois Jones, Ray Ruckman. I also late dated on Sarge Likens this week. . . . Fred Hermann, the ex-shoe salesman who is at it again, believes in starting the day off right—Real early Saturday morning he was seen enjoying the deliciousness of a coker with Catherine Micheal. . . . Vivian Thomas said that if anyone knew where Gordan Prichett was that she should. . . . Wonder if she knew where he was Friday night, or for that matter, do any of you? . . . Who is the gal up at 1318 State that Tandy Faxon calls on?—Just bring her around, guy, and we will give her some of the much sought publicity. . . . By the way, when are some of you mugs going to pay your pub-

(if I go) . . . . Saw Peggy Clark out wandering around by herself (oh, pardon me, Hugh) Monday afternoon, and she allows as how she is going to start back to school next week. . . . Bonnie Jones waits for Williams every afternoon after school—Did you know that Williams was supposed to get married about a couple of weeks ago, and practically stood the gal up at the altar—Why—There is always that Mary Freeman angle to be considered—But then Bill Read walks home with Freeman just about every afternoon, so says a report—Puppies, puppies, puppies. What is the meaning of those three words I have in my notes? . . . . The opinion of some of the B. U. boys and girls say that Shaw seems to be doing very, very nicely in this game of stringing along a high school boy—College boys dating high school girls is often seen, but the vice versa is a little out of the ordinary. . . . Smith has the mumps—where did he get them?—Edwards had them, member—And do you remember Marvin's actions while Ibbie had the mumps—Wonder if she will carry on in any such manner—Slick has them too, and didn't I see him with her a few nights ago? . . . . There is one boy that hasn't though, and that is no one but Abie Phillips—Guess you remember him, don't you Edwards? . . . . Some guy asks why Lowe doesn't study for a shorthand grade, and he puts emphasis on the "study"—Well, you know that all on account of as how I don't meddle in other people's business, I just wouldn't know. . . . J. F. Newman is going to be "put on the fence"—I know, cause Helen Cates said she was going to do that very thing when she got ready to marry that "boy back home"—I'll do my best, and

$400 BANK ACCT. AT DIAMOND WON

Fund Next Week, $25;
Capitol Has $150
Saturday.

Mrs. W. T. Runner, who resided at Woodburn when she first registered at Bank Night at the Diamond Theatre several months ago and has since moved to Bowling Green, had a bank account of $400 transferred to her yesterday after her name was called at the weekly Bank Night program at the Diamond, Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Runner, who now resides at 510 Seventeenth street, registered at the theatre again Tuesday afternoon. When the home addresses she gave yesterday and at the time of the original registration several months ago did not check, theatre officials believed it was a case of different persons with identical names, but it was later determined that the two registrations were by the same person.

Mrs. Runner is a sister-in-law of County Court Clerk George Potter. The Bank Night series at the Diamond will be continued next Tuesday with a bank account of $25.

A bank account of $150 will be offered at a similar program Saturday evening at the Capitol Theatre.

Saga of the Desert

HE WOULD HAVE SET THE WORLD ON FIRE
But He Had No Match!

Synopsis of preceding chapters: Our hero, Sixteen Horse Pistol Cuthbert has been riding through galley after galley of printed material, performing deeds of deerring-do and other such things. At the last reading he was trying to pull a rescue act involving the heroine of the piece, Alice W. Va. Fairfaxton-Smythe. More of the same: Chapter XI

Came the dawn. (As usual.) It was the break of dawn. What broke it? Our hero intent on his mission was too well occupied to even hear it crack. At length he found himself too weary to continue. "Whoa," he said. He produced from some where a pup tent and settled down for a good mornings rest. Four hours elapse. (We know that there is no reason in waiting four hours to continue with the story. On paper it would be nearly impossible anyway. Reader must just imagine that time has passed).

Asteriks indicate lapse of four hours.

Sixteen H. P. turned uneasily in his slumber and yawned. He rubbed his eyes. Glancing at his alarm clock he noted that it was twelve and high noon. (Noon is not the only thing high around here. Try and buy a decent steak and french fries).

Sadly S. H. P. meditated over the possibilities of breakfast. Naturally there was none. We haven't had any food for any of our characters in all the time this thing has been running. The tendency is toward realism now days and the devil knows that to have your characters going for ten or twelve weeks without food is a direct slap in the face of this theory. S. H. P. wandered over to a filling station and devoured one hamburger. Now that matter has been attended to.

With the speed of a man in a hurry our hero packed his belongings and broke camp. A few minutes later and he was on his way again.

A few miles later the city limits of a town loomed up. A sign informed the traveler that he was in West Montmorency Heights, population 4,500, welcome, speed limit 15 miles per hour. Seeing a man lounging over near the town watering trough, our hero made bold to venture a question as to whether or not any trace of Ivan Cassanova and his band of thugs had been found. The man did not answer. He was dead. He had just died of heart failure from seeing a tenderfoot from the east dressed in the western movie version of cowboy clothes.

Other inquires made no very good impression. Our hero continued his journey. Night came. Who would stop it from coming? Both Amarylus and Sixteen Horse Pistol Cuthbert are on the outskirts of the old

NURSING $196,000 HOPE

Thekla Reardon (above), former movie actress, will have to star as a nurse to win the $196,000 damage suit against William Pierre Stymsus, Jr., 77-year-old retired interior decorator. Justice John F. Carew indicated in court at New York, that if Stymsus proves he hired her as his sweetheart and not his nurse, her claim is void.

ghost town mentioned several weeks ago.

"I don't like the looks of this here place," mused our hero. "Better that we should go easy." So saying he dismounted and carefully made his way down the street, hugging the shadows and wishing that they were Alice West Va.

In front of the weatherbeaten portals of a delapidated edifice which bore the sign "Saloon," he paused. A faint gleam of light flickered through the cracked and dirty window pane of the building. The faint sound of voices floated out on the still night air. Picking his way with utmost care S. H. P. ambled to the door and tested it. At the touch of his hand it screeched on its rusty hinges. Unnoticed by Sixteen, a dark shadow moved in his direction. It was not his own. The silvery blade of a knife gleamed dully in the half light of the moon. If the moon had not been obscured by the clouds which were promises of a young storm, the careful observer might have noticed a sinister scarlet stain on the blade. It (the stain) consisted of tomato catchup.

WESTERN TO PLAY BALL THIS P. M.

Invasion of Tennessee Ends in Losses This Week.

Back home from an unsuccessful invasion of Tennessee, the Hilltopper baseball charges of Coach Ed Diddle looked forward today to their engagement on the local diamond this afternoon with the Cumberland University's Bulldogs, winners over the Westerners last week by a 6 to 5 count.

The Cumberland outfit, one of the best teams on the Western slate this season, took the measure of the Hilltoppers in a 12-inning contest, a home run breaking a 5-5 deadlock that had existed for four innings. R. W. (Wilcy) Williams, losing pitcher on that occasion, probably will get a chance for revenge by starting against the Lebanon outfit again, with big Folt West, conquerer of the Vanderbilt Commodores in a two-hit exhibition, in reserve.

Toppers Lose to Mid. Tenn.
Cumberland is one of two Tennessee teams to defeat the Hilltoppers, Middle Tennessee having turned the trick Tuesday at Murfreesboro, 9 to 8 as a result of jumping on Bailey Basham in the first inning for six runs. Williams relieved Basham and twirled winning ball, allowing only single runs in the second, fourth and eighth innings, but the Hilltoppers were unable to overcome the early advantage of the Tennesseans.

West and Mutchler led the hitting against Middle Tennessee with three hits each in four times at bat, including a home run by West. Murphy homered for the winners, whose most consistent hitter was Campbell, with three bingles in four swings.

Madge Evans thinks Leap Year should come every year! The lovely Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer player said so in an interview on the set of her new picture with Franchot Tone, "Exclusive Story."

"Leap Year was devised a long time ago. Girls who hadn't been asked for five years were then given the chance to pop the question themselves.

"But the world has changed since then. Girls have asserted themselves and taken the initiative with success in other things, so why not in romantic affairs?"

"Yes," she smiles, "I think Leap Year should begin every New Year's."

Saturday, One Day Only
Jack Haley is a country boy with a yen to be a government operative, but not quite the stuff to make the grade, in "F Man," new comedy. That's the explanation for the title—in this amusing farce an "F Man" is someone not quite good enough to be a "G Man."

Humor and romance develop around Haley's attempt to run down Public Enemy No. 1 and become Public Hero No. 1 himself. William Frawley cooperates with Haley on the humor, and Grace Bradley and Adrienne Marden on the romance. Onslow Stevens is the menace.

Edward F. Cline directed the picture, which is released by Paramount.

WESTERN TRIPS UP VANDY BY 8 TO 1

First Home Game Sees Real Nine

Big Foist West was in a stingy mood Saturday afternoon and the Vanderbilt Commodores found him for only two hits as the big boy's mates pounded two Vandy hurlers for 11 safeties to win 8 to 1 in the first home baseball game of the season on the Hill.

West allowed Carson, Vandy second sacker, to hit a double that did no harm, and gave up a single to Agee, visiting left fielder, while striking out nine and keeping the Commodore runners off base in a majority of innings.

He received fair support afield, with Bradford Mutchler's catch of a line drive proving the most scintillating piece of defensive work during the game. Brad also turned in the best hitting performance of the game, with four for five, although Rollie Moore compiled a perfect average at the platter with two for two. Moore, Mutchler and R. W. Williams pounded in all the Western runs, one coming in the second, another in the fourth, four in the fifth, one in the sixth and one in the seventh.

Vanderbilt's lone tally was the result of an infield out, a stolen base, a wild throw and another infield out.

DERBY DANCE

It was thought up until the last minute that the usual DERBY DANCE would not be given this year, but the demand was too great, so as a result, the promoters got together to give the usual DERBY SENDOFF.

The DERBY SENDOFF will be given at the Armory of Bowling Green, on Friday night, May 1, 1936. The music will be furnished by the Collegians with a very unique manner of presentation to signify the annual event of the races at the Derby.

Advance tickets are being sold throughout the student body by representatives and at the local student hang-outs.
